

Danger Zone (Rhythm Guitar) -- Kenny Loggins

From the Top Gun soundtrack (1986). About 158 BPM, est.

A Giorgio Moroder production. A driving synth pulse sits under big 80s hard-rock guitar: chunky power chords, then a screaming, delay-soaked lead.

Built from the song's overall sound. I haven't verified the exact guitars and amps on the record.

Instrument: Stratocaster (HSS). Bridge humbucker for both.

GP-5 only, Stratocaster (HSS), no pedalboard.

AMP: Solo100 OD (Soldano SLO crunch) + CAB: V30112 IR (User IR 10)

The SLO crunch channel is the polished 80s LA hard-rock tone: tight, saturated, mid-forward. It's the right era of hot-rodded Marshall-style gain.

V30112 is the loaded guitar cab with enough upper-mid bark for a crunch tone. EVM112 would thin out once the amp breaks up.

Module chain

NR -- Gate, always on.

THRE: 38.

Tight stops for the chugged power chords.

PRE -- Boost (EP Booster), on CTL.

Gain: 50, +3dB: on, Bright: off.

Pushes the SLO into lead saturation and adds level.

DST -- off. No pedal. The SLO handles the gain.

AMP -- Solo100 OD, always on.

Gain: 58, PRES: 55, VOL: 60, Bass: 50, Middle: 58, Treble: 58.

Gain 58 is saturated crunch, not metal. Middle 58 for 80s mid push.

CAB -- User IR 10 (V30112), always on.

VOL: 60.

EQ -- Guitar EQ 2, always on.

100Hz: -2, 500Hz: 0, 1kHz: +1, 3kHz: +1, 6kHz: -2, VOL: 50.

Tight lows, a slight presence lift, top trimmed.

MOD -- A-Chorus, always on.

Depth: 15, Rate: 0.6, Tone: 50.

A light chorus for 80s width. It stays under the gain.

DLY -- Analog, on CTL.

Mix: 22, Time: 380ms, F.Back: 30, Trail: on.

Lead delay. Mix 22 and F.Back 30 give the soaring 80s solo trail.

RVB -- Plate, always on.

Mix: 14, Decay: 35, Damp: 50, Trail: on.

An 80s plate.

CTL footswitch

On CTL: PRE (Boost), DLY (Analog).

- CTL off -- Rhythm. Chunky SLO power chords with a touch of chorus. This is the resting state the patch loads into.

- CTL on -- Lead. Boosted SLO plus a big analog trail for the screaming solo and melody lines.

Engage CTL for the solo and the lead hooks. Off for the power-chord rhythm.
