

You Don't Know How It Feels (Rhythm Guitar) -- Tom Petty

From Wildflowers (1994), produced by Rick Rubin. About 92 BPM, est.

A laid-back, dry, head-nodding groove with harmonica and a relaxed strum. Rubin's production keeps everything natural and uncluttered.

Built from the song's overall sound. I haven't verified the exact guitars and amps on the record.

Instrument: Stratocaster (HSS). Position 4 (neck+middle) for the strum. Bridge humbucker for the lead lines.

GP-5 only, Stratocaster (HSS), no pedalboard.

AMP: Foxy 30N (AC30 Normal) + CAB: EVM112 IR (User IR 5)

An AC30 normal channel is warm, chimey, and just shy of breakup. That fits a dry, organic mid-90s record.

EVM112 is the loaded guitar cab with a flat, hi-fi response. It keeps Nashville clean tones honest and doesn't add V30 honk.

Module chain

NR -- Gate, always on.

THRE: 16.

Light.

PRE -- off. No compressor. The strum should breathe naturally, Rubin-style.

DST -- Green OD (TS-808), on CTL.

Gain: 30, Tone: 52, VOL: 68.

A mild push for the lead lines and the solo. It's warm, not hot.

AMP -- Foxy 30N, always on.

Gain: 42, Tone Cut: 50, VOL: 62, Bright: off.

Gain 42 is warm and chimey, breaking up only when you dig in. Tone Cut 50 keeps it round.

CAB -- User IR 5 (EVM112), always on.

VOL: 60.

EQ -- Guitar EQ 2, always on.

100Hz: -2, 500Hz: 0, 1kHz: +1, 3kHz: 0, 6kHz: -2, VOL: 50.

Warm and uncluttered. The top is trimmed.

MOD -- off.

DLY -- Analog, on CTL.

Mix: 12, Time: 320ms, F.Back: 15, Trail: on.

A barely-there tail behind the lead. Mix 12.

RVB -- Room, always on.

Mix: 10, Decay: 25, Trail: on.

A small, dry room. This record is intimate.

CTL footswitch

On CTL: DST (Green OD), DLY (Analog).

- CTL off -- Rhythm. A warm, dry AC30 strum for the verses and choruses. This is the resting state the patch loads into.
- CTL on -- Lead. Mild Green OD plus a short analog tail for the lead lines and the solo.

Engage CTL for the solo and the melodic lines. Off for strumming.
